parallel structure

Parallel structure means using the same grammatical forms in a sentence.

Is she bad at parallel structure like you? She's cute, intelligent, and knows a lot of good jokes. You mean "cute, intelligent, and funny." Don't mix adjectives and verbs.

She likes playing tennis, watching movies, and to ride her bike.

Playing games, watching movies, riding bikes... Hey! I like to do those things.

Actually, she's free right now. She'd love to go to a movie, the zoo, or you could visit the park.

I told her you are not only a nice guy, but also handsome.

To a movie, the zoo, or a park...not only friendly but handsome... Ugh! Your parallel structure is terrible, but it's a date!

She enjoys reading books more than television.

She enjoys reading books more than watching television?
So do I!
